

Why publish with us?

- 1. Independence We are independent which means that we publish books that we believe in and that our publishing decisions are made by and for people with a knowledge of, and passion for, tourism studies.
- Integrity We treat our authors, customers and staff with integrity as we answer to people who care about the areas in which we publish.
- Ethical Publishing with us is a positive choice to support an independent, ethical company, and a responsive, compassionate way of doing business.
- 4. Continuity We are a small team and staff turnover is very low so you are likely to deal with the same person from proposal to publication and beyond.
- 5. Personal All of us are involved in the decision to publish every book, and so whoever you speak to will know about you, your book, and why it's important.
- 6. Promotion We promote our books at specialist conferences and work with a wide range of international reps and booksellers to make sure our books are promoted all over the world.
- Accessibility We offer open access publishing and all our titles are available as consumer ebooks so that our titles are as affordable and accessible as possible.
- Supportive We are proud to help and support authors publishing their first book and to develop new talent and ideas.
- 9. Innovative We are always on the lookout for new fields of research and take pride in the fact that we are often the first publisher to take a risk in a new and emerging subject area.
- 10. Friendly We always enjoy meeting our authors, whether at conferences or online, and are always happy to discuss book ideas. Just get in touch!

PROPOSALS

We love to hear from our authors, be they familiar faces or new and potential future authors. There is information on our website about the publication process and you will also find our guidelines on submitting a book proposal on the 'Information for Authors' tab. If you have any questions at all or would like to discuss an idea with us, please don't hesitate to get in touch.

"We have some exciting titles coming out towards the end of 2023 and in 2024. One of the highlights will be Richard Butler's third Tourism Area Life Cycle book – which should be the 100th volume in our Aspects of Tourism series! I will look forward to bringing our books to conferences throughout the year. Please contact me if you have any ideas for a new book or any publishing questions. Hopefully see you at a conference soon!"

Intangible Cultural Heritage and Tourism in China

A Critical Approach

Junjie Su

This book must have a place on the desks and reading lists of everyone interested in intangible heritage and tourism.

DALLEN J. TIMOTHY, ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY, USA

This book examines the relationship between intangible cultural heritage (ICH) and tourism, taking as a focus the ICH at the World Cultural Heritage site in Lijiang, China. It explores the tensions between authenticity and commodification and provides theoretical guidelines for developing a sustainable ICH tourism from a people-based approach.

The Rise of Tourism in China

Social and Cultural Change

Yiping Li

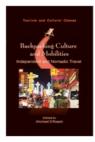

In this seminal treatise Dr Li enlists his in-depth studies of mainland China, Hong Kong and Canada, and applies ethnographical methods to interpret the results from a humanistic perspective. The book skilfully lifts the value of qualitative case studies to the high-order theoretical plane and makes an original contribution to tourism knowledge.

C.Y. JIM, EDUCATION UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG AND UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG

This book offers a comprehensive understanding of China's tourism development from 1992 onwards, focusing on the social-cultural change that accompanied the rise of tourism. It examines both the economic benefits and sociocultural impacts of tourism and argues that a delicate balance between these is needed to achieve sustainable tourism.

Masculinities in the Field

Tourism and Transdisciplinary Research

Edited by Brooke A. Porter, Heike A. Schänzel and Joseph M. Cheer

This book is a breath of fresh air in the field of gender and tourism – timely, brave and thought-provoking. Chapter by chapter, the book elegantly enhances our understanding of gendered biases in fieldwork.

OSCAR VOROBJOVAS-PINTA, EDITH COWAN UNIVERSITY, AUSTRALIA

This volume is an essential reference for designing, analysing and reflecting on field research. It advances the literature on gender by taking a specific focus on masculinities. The accounts of gendered field experiences further the call for gender positionality in research, will aid researchers and be a useful tool for supervisors.

Tourism as a Pathway to Hope and Happiness

Edited by Tej Vir Singh, Richard Butler and David A. Fennell

This thoughtful text is a fitting tribute to the legacy and ethos of the late Professor T.V. Singh and his co-editors Professors David Fennell and Richard Butler. The geographical, theoretical and methodological diversity of the contributions is impressive and showcases positive tourism as a force for good in challenging times.

JENNIFER FROST, LA TROBE UNIVERSITY, AUSTRALIA

This book explores the view that tourism can be a pathway to hope and happiness. It examines the role of tourism in preserving natural and architectural wonders, bringing out the best in tourists and locals and adding economic value if managed sustainably. It is a useful resource for students and researchers in tourism, psychology and philosophy.

The Local Turn in Tourism

Empowering Communities
Edited by Freya Higgins-Desbiolles
and Bobbie Chew Bigby

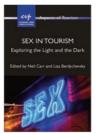

This revolutionary text provokes us to a critical and necessarily urgent refocusing of tourism that foregrounds the local in all its forms (humans, more than humans, and the ecology). Replete with counter-narratives, alternative visions, and practical actions, this book is a triumph in its unapologetic advocacy for tourism futures that are more just and inclusive.

DONNA CHAMBERS, UNIVERSITY OF SUNDERLAND, UK

This book considers the vital importance of local communities to just and sustainable tourism futures. The contributors examine how tourism can be reoriented to better connect people, place and planet. This local turn starts by centring local communities at the heart of tourism and identifies ways to ensure local community rights and benefits.

Sex in Tourism

Exploring the Light and the Dark

Edited by Neil Carr and Liza Berdychevsky

Neil Carr and Liza Berdychevsky deserve all accolades for editing a book that focuses on the nexus between sex and tourism, openly illuminating its light and dark sides. The readers of this thought-provoking book will be exposed to the intricate and profound ties between sex and tourism affecting individuals, communities, societies, and the tourism industry.

YANIV PORIA, BEN-GURION UNIVERSITY OF THE NEGEV, ISRAEL

This book encompasses the diversity and complexity of sex in tourism, including the light, dark and shades of grey between. It studies the affects and effects of diverse sexual encounters in tourism; romance tourism, sex tourism and exploitation in tourism, including the sexual exploitation of children in travel and tourism and sexual harassment.

Gamification for Tourism

Edited by Feifei Xu and Dimitrios Buhalis

Rich in theory and filled with practical cases from around the globe, this book convincingly shows how central gamification and gaming are to experience creation and persuasion in the hedonic context of tourism and hospitality. The many illustrations make it an especially engaging read!

ULRIKE GRETZEL. UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. USA

This book examines the cutting-edge concept of gamification in tourism. The chapters offer valuable insights and examples of best practice and address key issues of game mechanism and game design principles. This will be useful for students and researchers in tourism marketing, smart tourism and tourism futures, as well as industry practitioners.

The Passenger Experience of Air Travel

A Critical Approach

Edited by Jennie Small

As the first to discuss the lived experience of air passengers and, especially, their in-flight experience, this is a genuinely ground-breaking book. Given the centrality of air travel to modern mobilities, this collection will quickly become a key contribution to the new critical mobilities work focussed on power relations and inequalities.

NIGEL MORGAN, UNIVERSITY OF SURREY, UK

Taking a critical approach to the air passenger experience, this book considers the representations, embodied practices and materialities of air travel. It brings the journey to the fore as a complex and meaningful experience, filling a gap in the social science research of tourist behaviour, traditionally focused on the destination experience.

New Perspectives

Edited by Oscar Vorobjovas-Pinta

This book is an excellent, exciting and unique new contribution to tourism scholarship. It provides new perspectives and insights into a fast-changing global society drawing on various fine-grained analyses. Besides new themes of investigation, the book brings to the fore perspectives from beyond the Western world of LGBTQ+ travel and tourism experiences.

GUSTAV VISSER. STELLENBOSCH UNIVERSITY. SOUTH AFRICA

This book examines the emerging and shifting issues in the field of gay tourism, how these relate to significant societal and technological changes and the implications of these changes for theory, policy and practice. The Impact of Tourism in East Africa

A Ruinous System

Anne Storch and Angelika Mietzner

Two critical yet beautiful voices and an impressive journey: No other study on language and tourism combines the perspectives on postcolonialism, ruination and semiotic landscapes in such an engaging and eye-opening manner. Scholars in the field of tourism studies will be very grateful for this new book.

NICO NASSENSTEIN, UNIVERSITY OF MAINZ, GERMANY

This book explores the relationship between imperial formations and individual encounters at African tourist sites. It examines how encounters between tourists and hosts tend to be constructed along colonial thought lines and shows that ruination is omnipresent in postcolonial tourist settings. Tourism Paradoxes

Contradictions, Controversies and Challenges

Edited by Erdinç Çakmak,
Hazel Tucker and Keith Hollinshead

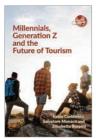

Highlighting non-western discourses, and addressing contradictions inherent in theorisations of power, colonialism and identities in tourism, the novel and stimulating examples in this powerful book provoke a re-evaluation of the intricacies and subtleties of tourism in contemporary societies.

SCOTT MCCABE, UNIVERSITY OF NOTTINGHAM, UK

At a time when COVID-19 is transforming the tourism industry, this book presents many contemporary inconsistencies and paradoxes in tourism contexts and studies. It offers a reconsideration of what may be needed in order to equip researchers and practitioners in tourism and related fields to better interpret and manage the future of tourism.

Fabio Corbisiero, Salvatore Monaco and Elisabetta Ruspini

This volume places the youngest travellers at the core of scientific reflection. Applying a generational approach to the study of tourism and elaborating on technologies, the sharing economy and gender issues in tourism, it is a timely and useful resource capturing some significant peculiarities that will shape the future of tourism.

MARINA NOVELLI, UNIVERSITY OF BRIGHTON, UK

This book examines the lifestyles, expectations and plans of Millennials and Generation Z and how they are redefining tourism. It explores the present and future challenges faced by the tourism industry as a result of the generational turnover and the role a generational perspective can play in helping the industry recover from the COVID-19 crisis.

Sustainable Tourism

Principles, Contexts and Practices

David A. Fennell and Chris Cooper

It is very clear that we need to do a better job of educating people about what sustainability means for tourism. This book is an excellent addition to the resources we need for this education. It tackles the values, ethics and motivations needed if we are to make tourism a force for good.

GIANNA MOSCARDO, JAMES COOK UNIVERSITY, AUSTRALIA

This new textbook provides a comprehensive overview of sustainable tourism framed around the UN's sustainable development goals. It examines the origins and dimensions of sustainable tourism and offers a detailed account of sustainable initiatives and management across destinations, the tourism industry, public sector and leading agencies.

Sport Tourism Development

3rd Edition

James Higham and Tom Hinch

This third edition gives an updated and comprehensive overview of the development of sport tourism. Its accessible style and critical insights make it not only required reading for those new to the subject, but also an invaluable source for those currently researching and working in the field.

SEAN GAMMON, UNIVERSITY OF CENTRAL LANCASHIRE, UK

This book explores sport-related tourism and presents multidisciplinary perspectives of sport tourism, as structured by the geographical concepts of space, place and environment. It offers a comprehensive update of the discussions presented in the two previous editions and aims to advance theoretical thinking on sport tourism development.
